READ—CAPTAIN COSTER LOADED FOR SAR. Philip Dwyer, Ben All Haggin and Transer Robertar for Lexington to-day to bid against each other are certain of Congressman W. L. Scott's racchorses, which are to be sold at auction on Thursday. Mr. Bowe goes as the representative of August Belmont, who seems bent on having the most powerful stable Union sext year. Mr. Belmont does not pro-to endanger the usefulness of George Oyster and land by permitting such men as the Haggins and Duye's to oppose them with youngsters like Tea Tray, Terchlight and Satan. His absolute safety lies in the ip of these colts, which promise to develop high-class three-year-olds. The Dwyers, for their part, having lost the crack of their stable, must pick tter colts than those they now possess if would contend for the three-year-old stakes. The ns are in the same fix, their sole dependence out of a lot of some fifty with which their stable began the season. Montana Morrissey may want the trio. And there is Senator Hearst, too, who may put in a

nt. The turf has been a disappointment and to him. After a few seasons of conflict with kmakers he has lost that ardent love for the ernity which may have filled his soul when he began the business and pleasure of horseracing. In n English, he quits the turf because he cannot beat the ring. His horses have never run to suit him. When he backed them to win they finished in the ruck; when he let them run loose they won. The cinches he ed turned out to be stiffs, and his pickled sleepers were invariably spoiled in the brine.

STABLE MANAGED WITH LITTLE JUDGMENT. Mr. Scott was heavily handicapped by a large lack of knowledge concerning the strength of his own stable s compared with the strength of others. Having emnyed a competent trainer and a clover betting comssioner he feit, doubtless, that he had done all that necessary to fasure success. But Mr. Schaefer and Thompson could not always agree, and both were often grievously mistaken about the chances of the borses in their charge. It frequently happened that on one was most certain of victory, the other was most sure of defeat.

Many useful animals are doomed to suffer defeat after defeat by the insane desire of owners to beat eks with selling platers. Beyond doubt it has cost the Congressman from Eric thousands of dollars, for no one will presume to deny that in the majority of eir races his horses were outclassed. Differently sed, such animals as Flageoletta, Arundel, Tea Tray, Porchlight and Satan would pay their way on any race-Flageoletta's limit this year in the matter of ight-carrying ability was 100 pounds. Think of that for a hearty three-year-old! The filly is far from the top of the tree, but it is not unlikely that with a pos nge of masters she might have borne 120 pounds to victory. A yearning to beat the best horses of the land is always laudable, but vaulting ambition benes extravagant folly when unsupported by good lerial and judgment.

A better bred lot of horses than those of the Algeria stud has never been brought under the hammer in this country. The sale will comprise the four-yearold Quito; three three-year-olds—Flagcoletta, Roi d'Or and Arundel; eight two-year-olds, and nineteen yearlings. The colts are engaged in every stake of importance in the East, which cannot be said of Raceland, George Oyster and Emperor of Norfolk. BOLE AND SIR DIXON-MORE ROOM AT SHEEPSHEAD

Eole will not be trained again, Mr. Gebhard having cluded to retire him, in company of his stable comion, St. Saviour, to the stud. Dixon, who may give the Dwyers, the Haggins, rich stakes east of the Alleghanies.

When the Coney Island Jockey Club grades its straight three-quarter course and begins to run its Futurities, how is it going to accommodate its patrons! At present there is not room enough between the paddeck and the betting ring for 20,000 spectators. The grand-stand is too small, and the lawn too narrow even for an ordinary Suburban Day crowd. What, then, is to be done with the 30,000 persons who are going to Sheepshead to see the Futurities! Last Suburban Day it was almost as much as a man's life was worth to attempt to reach a bookmaker. Thousands did not bet because they were afraid to undertake the tempestuous trip to the ring. It was a time of hat-smashing, clohes-ripping, toe-crushing, patience-wrecking and swearing.

Captain Coster is baded for b'ar and a person who invested him into an interview the other day. "I didn't know I was being interviewed," says the veteran handcapper, "until I saw it all in the paper. There's so much in the article I didn't say that I feel like repudiating the whole business. Lots of ideas are credited to me that I never dreamed of. Don't you think it mighty silly of me to say that a heavy you think it mighty silly of me to say that a heavy with the steel of the minal and makes him run faster? Well, I never said it. But that's one of the things he's got against me. Just wait till that chap comes round again."

MEDICAL MEN ON CHRISTIANITY.

There was a large attendance of medical and other tudents at Dockstader's Theavoy of Sujuose issi-one the views of Dr. D. B. St. John Roosa on the subject of "The Unrecognized Influence of Christianity." Dr. Roosa spoke about an hour, and pointed out the great advantages to be attained by the consistent practice of the Christian life and virtues. His first purpose was to prove that all the blessings of the present civiwas to prove that all the blessings of the present civilization were due directly to the teachings of the Christian religion.

Short addresses were then made by B. N. Bridgeman, of the University Medical College; H. E. Kendall, of Bellevne; Edward Smith, of the Homospathic College; and Beecher White, of the same institution. From the remarks of these young men it was evident that the movement is having a beneficent effect among the Students of this city.

BANGING HIMSELF WITH THE CLOTHES LINE. Dr. John Wettlaufer, a German dentist, age forty, of No. 171 East Thirty-third-st., hung himself with a clothes line in the basement of his house early yesterday morning. His wife missed him at 7:80 a. m. and cut him down as soon as she discovered him, but he was dead at that time. Before hanging himself he had written a letter saying that he was tired of life and hoped his friends would take care of his wife and children. He had tried to kill himself with morphine, he wrote, but had failed. Wettlaufer's suicide was the result of excessive drinking. His nerves had become so shaky from the effects of liquor that he sould not attend to his business, and he was subject to violent outbreaks of temper. About a year ago his son, age sixteen, ran away from home and his not been found yet. The other child is a girl, about nine years old. A THIEF TAKES MR. OVER'S OVERCOAT.

On the evening of December 7, Mary Over, who lives in One-hundred and sixty-eighth st., near Unionave., heard a noise in the house, and looking about found George H. Phillips, a colored man, in a bed-room. He had taken a pillow-case off the bed and sed it as a bag to carry off two slik dresses and a suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Over. He had also put on Mr. Over's overcoat. On seeing Mrs. Over, he jumped out of a window with his plunder. Mrs. be jumped out of a window with his plunder. Mrs. Over caught him in the gardet, and made him take off the coat and give up the rest of the clothing. Then the let him go. When she made a search of her apartments she found that Phillips had carried off $100 in money, and jewelry valued at $00, which she had not thought of. She reported the theft to Detective Schermer, of the Thirty-third Precent, and the detective caught the negro on Saturday night. The prisoner denied the charge in the Hariem Court yesterday, but was held in $1,000 bail by Justice Welde for trial.

SUICIDE OF AN UNKNOWN MAN.

As the Staten Island ferryboat Westfield, which left As the Staten Island ferrybost Westneid, which left New York at 7:40 on Saturday night, was slowly making her way to St. George and was off Bedlow's Island, the cry of "man overboard" was heard from the forward deck. The captain at once gave the signal to stop, a boat was launched and rowed around the spot where the man leaped overboard for ten minutes in vain. E. Brinley, one of the fleek hands, stated that he had seen a man, aungrently inleck hands, stated that he had seen a man, apparently in texicated, standing forward on the main deck on the star-board side, leaning against the rail. Suddenly, without any wavning, he jumped on the rail and sprang overheard. By nicy succeeded in catching hold of the suicide's coat-tail, but but to let go, and the presumption is that the body was caught by the paddle-wheel. The suicide is de-gribed as a middle-need man with black mustache and whishers, well dressed and evidently a German.

"A recent examination of the double bottom, while being painted, disclosed the fact that considerable injury had been done," said one of her officers yesterday. "Not only was damage done to the skin of the ship, but several of the frames have been bent and a propellor-blade broken off, showing con-clusively that the ship grounded on a rock, instead of sand as reported; and from the amount and character of the injury it is manifest that a considerable time must have been passed bumping on the bottom. MR. PENTECOST RESIGNS.

QUITTING THE ORTHODOX MINISTRY.

PROGRESS AND POVERTY " II IS DON : I'S WO K EFFECTUALLY—SURPRISING HIS CONGREGATION. The Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost formally announced his resignation as pastor of the Belleville Avenue Congregational Church, in Newark, at the morning services resterday, and explained his reasons for taking this step. When in a vote of the congregation some time ago upon as pastor, a large minority voted for his dismissal, it became manifest to the friends of the pastor that he could not long continue in the church. His resignation yesterday was not only from the Belleville Avenue Church, but also from the orthodox ministry. The church was crowded at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, when Mr. Pentecost faced the congregation which he has presided over for two years, and a profound interest pervaded the church. It was expected that the pastor would announce his resignation, but when he said in addition that in future he would be bound by none of the laws and rules of evangelical Christianity, a murmur of surprise ran through the congregation.

Mr. Pentecost, after giving out his text, said: " At the close of this sermon it is my intention to tender my resignation as pastor of this church, and I trust you will nsider it unseemly if in my sermon this morning I give the reasons that have led me to this act. In doing so I cannot but shrink from thrusting myself personally upon you, but the question of fairness to my friends and to those who have opposed me suggests "the setting aside of all personal preferences and self-consciousness. When I was asked by a committee from this church to consider a call to its pastorate nearly two years ago, I stated that it would not be easy for me to accede, chiefly because at that time I was free from all orthodox restraint and I had made up my mlud not to be bound again. But I knew that the Congregational Church was broad in its views, and I told the gentlemen that it should be understood that I was not strictly orthodox in my theological belle's. My course since has verified this. When I was brought before the council I made no attempt to conceal my mind.

HIS SYMPATHY FOR ANARCHISTS. "I suppose the greatest friction among us was caused by my economic views. Our strained relations are due by my secondar view to my sympathy with those who are striving for social reform. But to these things was added my sympathy for the four Anarchists in Chicago, who I said were nurdered. All these things resulted in the calling of the meeting of the church and trustees, which resulted in my favor, while a minority large and powerful expressed a desire to have me leave. I have nothing whatever to regret. If I had the same to do over again I would say and do as I have said and done."

Mr. Pentecost was interrupted at this point by ap plause, and requested that it be not repeated as it oftended many of the congregation. . He contin ued: My feeling for the Chicago revolutionists was akin to sympathy for what those men suffered. They were sufficiently brave to fall willing rictims to selfish motives and for the benefit of their fellow men. Notody has read 'Progress and Poverty' and pointed out its failacles. An illegal murder cannot be justified by a legal one."

The speaker complained that some who had voted to have him retire had not attended services for months and had no conception of what he had said. The quesand had no conception of swhat he had said. The question for him was whether he should retain his flock. He would have resigned the night of the meeting but he was not sufficiently calm and he needed consideration. If he should remain probably many would leave the church. The decision of the heeting was plainly not sceepted by the minerity as final, and discord was inevitable. He could not change his beliefs and he had no right to drive out of the church those who had contributed to build the edifice. Their rights were greater than his, while it was possible that his friends would leave the church because he retired, it was not probable, and if they did he could not be held responsible. He did not think he was a martyr, and he had suffered nothing except in mind. The thought of doing right was ample compensation. NO ORTHODOX CHRISTIANITY FOR HIM.

"The culmination of all is," said the speaker, " that I of any kind. Two years ago I started a study of 'Chrisof any kind. Two years ago I started a study of Christian lives for the purpose of getting at the truth. I have rejected restricted communion and have found other doors of inquiry open for me. God's work is far more important than creeds and bibles, and we have more bibles than one). But I never considered that I had the right to preach this doctrine here. It might mosettle the faith of some of the members. The evangelical church says thus far shalt thou think and ne further. This I cannot consent to. My resignation dates not later than January I, but if after this discourse the church considers it improper for me to fill this pulpit again I will consider it no more than right. If I remain until January I will take care to say no disturbing word."

Mr. Pentecost then read the following: "I hereby tender my resignation as pastor of the Belleville Avenue Church, to take effect not later than January 1.

A Vivid Chapter from His Experience and the Valueble Lesson It Contains-A Few Timely

One of the notable men to be seen in the corridor of the Fifth Avenue Hotel is Senator Dorsey. Those who are acquainted with the Senator realize what a remarkable man he is, and that as Secretary of the National Republican Committee during the Garfield campaign, and as manager of the immense from interests he now has on hand, his abilities have never falled him. But while mentally and physically he is in perfect condition now, he was no always so. A few years since his physical system gave way and he became a victim of the worst trouble that ever nes to man or woman. Dell pains in his body, especially in the back; a tired feeling; lack of appetite; loss of sleep. All these symptoms, which are the sure forerunner of disaster, came to him. This is what he mys on the subject:

says on the subject:

"Drs. Bliss and Johnson of Washington directed me a few years ago to use Bethesda Water for severe kidney and bladder difficulties, and its effect was marveilous. I consider the waters of the Bethesda Spring the best in the world for kidney and bladder troubles and I have recommended it to many persons since my recovery. For all such discusses as I have named it is worth more than all the prescriptions and all the drugs."

But Senator Dorsey's experience in the use of Bethesda is not a solitary one. Every leading physician in America orders its use when patients are attacked with kidney affections. Dr. Bliss knew its great value and adminis-

Moon left the house about 9 p. m. Saturday to get some beer, and when he returned he and Roche on arreiled about the woman. Moon says he left the house again and was walking along the road when Roche ran after him and stabbed him. Roche was arrested and lodged in the county jail at Hackensack.

KEEPING UP THE FAMILY REPUTATION. August Edward Fischer, a Nihilist, who claims re lattonship with the dead Chicago Anarchist of that name, was arraigned at the Essex Market Court yes terday morning for disorderly conduct and got a fine of $10. He went into the beer-shop of Gustave Parisette, at No. 26 First-ave. on Saturday night and began shouting the praises of anarchy, nihilism and communism. The proprietor ejected Fischer, who in revenge picked up a cobblestone on the street and hurled it through the shop window. Four men were standing at the bar at the time, but no one was hit.

GENEVA NON-MAGNETIC WATCH CO. GENTLEMEN: During the past six months I have submitted the watches containing Paillard's Patent Non-Magnetic Com-pensation Balance and Hair-Spring to tests in different fields of magnetism. I find them exempt from magnetic influence, however strong, and practically no retardation of the balance nor change in the rate occurs, even when in actual contact with dynamos or powerful electro-mag-

I have been carrying one of your watches in my pocket and going around dynamos and other electrical appliances where I have never been able to carry a watch without ruin-ing it, and it has proved an excellent time-keeper. I consider Paillard's Balance a most wonderful and valuable invention, not only for workers around dynamos, but wherever accuracy of time is required.

Very truly, (Signed) T. A. EDISON. ORANGE, N. J., Dec. 7, 1887.
